

Monday, April 08, 2019

SAT -Exam Prep - Ratios

I have added Khan Academy assignments
Complete all; and earn credit before the report card period.

Thursday, April 11th, 2019.

Cell phones are not allowed- any use of cell phones, classroom disruptions or eating/drinking- 0 participation points.

Next Tuesday: You will have a test for the sections covered since February/March. I will post the review guide on my website tomorrow.

I will be absent tomorrow: You are expected to answer the questions I post on the website and turn in your work before the end of the class hour for grading. This will help prepare for the test on Tuesday as well.

Thursday, April 11th, 2019.

REVIEW PRACTICE TEST - TEST TOMORROW

Practice test and the questions are on my website. Answers to the short answer questions were due on Friday 4/12.

- ❖ Cell phones are not allowed- any use of cell phones for non-classroom work, classroom disruptions or eating/drinking- 0 participation points.
 - Do not move chairs or table. Make sure to leave them clean when you leave.
- IF YOU WANT TO DISCUSS GRADES-SEE ME DURING 4TH HR 11.10-11.50AM.

Thursday April 18th 2019

Please complete following Khan Academy
Assignments – in class- 20 points

1. Naming ions and ionic compounds – watch video and take notes.
2. Naming monatomic ions and ionic compounds-read the article - provide summary notes (only the formulas and the names in the article are enough).
3. Common polyatomic ions- watch video take notes.
4. Polyatomic ions - read article and copy table " Common polyatomic ions" to your note book.

Turn in notes for 1-3 before the end of class hour. Videos must indicate that you have completed work.

Show me that you copied the " Common polyatomic ions" table to your notebook. I will check your notebook, by the end of hour.

Free Summer Science Camp at the University of Michigan

If you have any friends/relatives in 9th grade and interested in a one-week Free Summer Science Camp at University of Michigan – check the link on my web page. Deadline for applications – April 26th.